Pam,

Okay was trying to understand this via BlackBerry last night and wasn't connecting the dots to your question - Jenny clarified. It seems, just as Pat has solicited folks on your side with Lou Ann chiming in on candidates, we have our folks doing the same thing - in this case, it was Larry. I had asked Larry to assist in key points for the RFQ itself...it seems that some of the data that was provided was from a potential recipient of the RFQ itself.

This process was not as tight as I would have liked it, with both of our staffs making phone calls - I feel strongly that we can have a fair assessment of the submissions irrespective of all the "noise " on these candidates. I look forward to reviewing them, comparing notes, and getting the interviews started with you. Going in with "eyes wide open " with no predisposition to candidates. -- Jeff
